1/ Meet Philadelphia Proud Boy Richard Schwetz, aka "PhillyDick" aka "Dick Sweats."

He was at the Proud Boys' "rally" in West Philly on Saturday, threatening to dox protesters.

He works for @InovaPayroll in Reading, PA.

Hey, @InovaPayroll, why do you employ hate group members?

2/ Saturday's rally was a complete failure for the Philadelphia Proud Boys.

Only a handful of them showed up, compared with 400-500 protesters.

Richard was *pissed* and took to Twitter to make threats.

3/ On Twitter, Richard Schwetz makes threats to dox journalists and activists, and generally spreads racist propaganda.

Like all Proud Boys, he also hates trans people, using the hashtag "#TrannyLivesDontMatter."

8/ If you're a regular follower of mine, you know what's coming next.

We contact @InovaPayroll to get this hate group member fired.

Given their feelings about the death of George Floyd, it seems strange that @InovaPayroll employs a hate group member.

"With a heavy but hopeful heart, I stand with those calling for justice for George Floyd, and for sweeping systemic change, so that every American can live and pursue without fear or hindrance the dream that brought me to this country." A note from our CEO Farsheed Ferdowsi.

10/ And if any Proud Boys are reading this right now-- this is what happens when you come into our communities to spread your hate.

You come out to Portland on the 26th, you get identified and then we get you fired.

It's as simple as that.
